THE CHILDREN'S CRUSADE

(A D. 1212-1213)

" Ne pleurons plus.
Un jour, touché de nos voeux,
Monseigneur Dieu
Nous rendra notre Jésus. "

L'hymne de la croisade.
d'aprés Alfred des Essarts.

The strange episode in mediaeval history known as the Children's Crusade can best be understood by viewing it against the background of the religious, social and political conditions of the times, early in the thirteenth century. It was the Age of Faith. Christianity was flourishing throughout all Europe. The truths and mysteries of religion were vital forces in the daily lives of the people and occupied the minds of all classes to a degree hardly believable in our materialistic age.

For nearly two hundred years the exploits of the knights and warriors in the various great crusades had been retold in song and story until they became the familiar inspiration of youth in every country in Europe. In spite of bravery and skill-at-arms, the utter failure of the flower of Christendom to rescue the Holy Places from the yoke of the infidel was at once a reproach and a challenge to the extravagant idealism of the youth of the times. Thus they were the more easily inspired to pit their feeble strength against the savage and fanatical hordes of Mohammed and to believe implicitly in a supernatural sanction for their wild endeavor.

The supreme folly of the project and the insane fanaticism of those who inspired it seem almost inconceivable to modern minds. One must appreciate the ardent faith of these children and their willing belief in the assurances given to them of miraculous intervention in their behalf to conceive, even remotely, the possibility of organizing such a rash scheme.

Peasant children for the most part, unarmed except for the hunting spears, bows and slings carried by the older boys, they confidently expected that the sea would open for them, as the waters of the Red Sea were divided for the children of Israel, and that when they reached the Holy Land the hordes of Islam would incontinently flee before them.

Their naive simplicity and their firm belief in Divine assistance is eloquently disclosed in their marching song, the Hymn of the Crusade, which they sang so bravely through the countryside in their march to the sea and which echoed and re-echoed from the steep walls of the mountain-passes through which they trudged in the depth of winter.

The enterprise of these children was holy and sublime, but the means of execution did not correspond to the grandeur of the project. Ignoring all dangers, they rushed headlong into the most glorious of deaths with only a blind faith in their cause to sustain them. Many, sick and feeble, were rescued by the monasteries: many more, dying from exposure, were buried in the snow. More than ten thousand were thus lost on the way.

Upwards of thirty thousand assembled at Marseilles and Genoa for this foolhardy expedition. Finally embarked as they thought for Palestine, several of their vessels were lost at sea in the storm so graphically portrayed by poet and composer. Those on board met a death that was merciful in its sudden onset, quick and glorious in comparison to the fate awaiting those others who, through the connivance of debased and greedy shipowners, were sold in the slave-marts of Alexandria and Algiers and who had to live out their miserable lives as galley-slaves under the blazing sun along the river Nile. This was the terrible end of their great adventure.

This little known incident in history accomplished nothing and, unlike the greater crusades, added nothing to the development of western civilization. It is a classic instance of what has well been termed "superstition set in motion." The only compensation for its stark tragedy lies in its portrayal of the simple faith and high courage of the peasant children in the Middle Ages.

PAUL F. SPAIN.

ARGUMENT

"ABOUT that time, many children, without leader and without guidance, did fly in a religious ecstasy from our towns and from our cities, making for the lands beyond the seas. And to those who asked of them whither they were bound, they did make answer: 'To Jerusalem, in search of the Holy Land.' . . . They carried staves and satchels, and crosses were embroidered on their garments . . . and many of them came from beyond Cologne. They travelled to Genoa and did embark upon seven great vessels to cross the sea. And a storm arose and two vessels perished in the waters. . . . And to those who asked of such of the children, as were saved, the reason of their journey, these replied: 'We do not know.'" Chronicles of ALBERT DE STADE, of JACQUES DE VORAGINE, and of ALBERIC DES TROIS-FONTAINES.

PART I

THE FORTHSETTING

A public square in a Flemish town in 1212.

Night.

Four Women

Wake! wake! awake!
Set forth for Jerusalem,
Where Jesus waits.

Chorus

What is this marvel that is brooding o'er the nations?
Is a miracle impending?
Through the night,
Through the shades of night,
Comes a voice,
Mysteriously yet plainly
Athwart the gloom of the darkness,
So clear,
Comes a wondrous voice from out the gloom of the darkness.

Four Women

Wake! wake! awake!
Set forth for Jerusalem,
Where Jesus waits.

The Narrator

Through all the folk are rumours astir,
And women run about the streets
Uplifting their hands to the heavens.
Children, too, in their frenzy,
Batter the doors down,
Leave their parents' homes,
Escape from the arms of their mothers.
O Lord, is this the time appointed?
O Lord, is it a crusade that Thou commandest?

Four Women

Wake! wake! awake!
Set forth for Jerusalem,
Where Jesus waits.

The Children

O, hear ye not the voices that call us?
Do ye not hear the pale voices?
Alain! Allys!
Do ye not hear heavenly voices?

The Narrator

Ah! dear Lord,
Dost Thou see these bands of little ones,
That answer to Thy call?

The Children

O, hear ye not through the night
The pale voices that are calling?

Chorus of Men

Dear Lord, and can it be
Thou bid'st our children seek the Cross?

Four Women

Wake! wake! awake!
Set forth for Jerusalem,
Where Jesus waits.

Alain

O, hear ye not the voice?
Ah, where it calls, there fain would I go.
O God, I was born sightless, sightless;
O God, Thou mad'st me blind and sightless,
Never yet have I known what the light is.
Where is Jerusalem? O, dear Lord,
Lead me there, help me go.

Allys

'T is Jesus calls us,
Jerusalem shines brightly through the dark,
And I, thy little Allys,
I will find the way.
Alain, 't is Jesus calls us; let me hold thy hand.

Alain

Jerusalem is shining, gleaming through the dark.
Ah! would I might be following those voices that call us.
O Lord, be my guide, for I ne'er have known what the light is.
Jerusalem is shining, gleaming through the dark.
Then up, children all!
Up, since our knights have cast aside their armour,
Our kings no longer rule, nay, nor reign!

The Children

Then up! Jesus calls!
Up! since the knights have cast aside their armour.
No king, no, nor man,
Dare go to battle for the faith.
Then up! Jesus calls! To Jerusalem!

Allys and Alain

There in those fair gardens
We'll pluck sweet flowers,
And many a cross we'll weave
Of green leaves and red roses,
For Jesus.
For, like the little swallows in autumn
That fly away homeward,
So must we seek the sun.
Let us seek the Holy City,
And Jesus!

The Children

There in those fair gardens
We'll pluck sweet flowers,
And many a cross we'll weave
Of green leaves and red roses,
For Jesus.
For, like the little swallows in autumn
That fly away homeward,
So must we seek the sun,
We must go to the sun,
We all shall gather flowers,
And green leaves and red roses,
For Jesus.

Bass Chorus (The Fathers)

Alas! foolish ones!
Where think ye now to fare,
When all is darkness?

The Children; Allys, Alain

Jerusalem is shining,
Gleaming through the dark.

Chorus of Men

Jerusalem lieth far away o'er the sea.

The Children; Allys, Alain

The sea will divide itself,
The sea shall become dry land,
We shall walk between its waves;
Unto Jesus we go, unto Him, unto Him!
To reconquer the Holy City!

Chorus of Men

Alas! Alas! Foolish ones! Go not!
Go not! foolish ones! Ye are mad!
Whither go ye into the darkness?

Chorus of Women

But, children, who will give you, each day,
Your daily bread?

Alain

'T is Jesus that will give us our bread,
And we shall live even as the birds of heaven,
For Jesus will provide us with fountains of water,
And there in His gardens
Shall we gather fruits. Aye! and through the night
We'll sleep out of doors on the hay,
While the moon so friendly o'er our sleep will watch,
From up on high!

The Children; Alain

For Jesus, He will give us our bread,
And we shall live even as the birds of heaven,
And through the night
We shall sleep in the loving embrace of the moon.

Chorus of Women (The Mothers)

Children dear, go not!
But stay here with your mothers.
Ah, can you forget
What we suffered when we bore you,
And all our care since then?
Ah, can you forget
All that for you we have suffered?
Ah, no, my little child, dearest child
That I so softly used to rock to sleep
In thy cradle. Sweet my child!

Soprano Solo

And at night I used to wake,
Just to be sure thou didst breathe.
Thy body itself was once a part of mine.
Thou art my flesh and blood!
O thou my child, my child,
Leave me not behind thee here in the dark!
Thou art my very flesh and blood!
Leave me not! Leave me not!
Whom I for so long have borne in my arms.
So much I've wept,
That mine eyes are red with weeping.
Do not leave me here alone,
My child, do not go!
Dearest child that I've lulled so oft.
Leave me not! Do not go!
Ah, ye children, think of us!

Chorus of Women

I used to wake but to be sure thou didst breathe,
Wake at night to hear the sound of thy breath.
Thou thy very self wert once a part of me!
Thou art thyself a part of me,
Thy flesh my flesh,
Thy blood my blood!
Child, O my child, leave me not behind thee here in the night.
Do not leave me so! I fear to let thee go!
Thou art my flesh and blood!
Whom I for so long have borne in my arms,
Wilt thou force me to weep for ever?
So much I've wept,
That mine eves are red with weeping.
Ah! Sweet my child, do not leave me here alone,
Leave me not behind thee here in the dark,
Dear child: remember, ah! remember,
Dearest child that I've lulled so oft.
Leave me not! Do not go!
Ah! ye children, think of us!

Four Women

Depart for Jerusalem! Set forth,
Jesus awaits!

Alain

Ah! Listen to the voice,
The pale voice from out the night.

Four Women

Set forth for Jerusalem! Depart,
For Jesus waits!

Alain

Ah! To us He is calling!

Allys and Alain

O come to Jerusalem,
That shines so brightly through the night.
There in those gardens fair
We'll pluck sweet flowers,
For Jesus.
Let us go to the sun!
We all shall gather flowers,
And green leaves and red roses,
For Jesus.

The Children

He calls! Away! Away!
There in those fair gardens
We'll pluck sweet flowers,
And many a cross we'll weave
Of green leaves and red roses,
For Jesus.
And, like the little swallows in autumn
That fly away homeward,
Let us go to the sun!
We all shall gather flowers,
And green leaves and red roses,
For Jesus.

Chorus (Tutti)

O children, think of us!
Do not forsake us like this!
Forsake, ah! forsake us not!
Oh! stay with us! Ah! little ones!
Oh! dear children, go not!
Jerusalem lies far away,
Far beyond the confines of Ocean!
Oh! remain! Ah me! Do not forsake us!
O do not leave us! Stay, stay with us,
Little chi'dren! Ah! go not!

Chorus

Alas! Foolish ones!
For your guide is a child, and sightless!

The Children; Allys, [Alain]

What if this world he sees not,
Jesus he can see, the Christ he sees!
The sea will divide itself,
The sea shall become dry land,
We shall walk between the waves!
Unto Jesus we go, unto Him!
To reconquer the Holy City!

Alain

What if this world I see not,
Jesus I can see, the Christ I see!

Chorus

Jerusalem lieth far away o'er the sea.
O Lord, have pity! Alas! foolish ones!
O Lord, have mercy, and keep them safe,
Pardon them, and keep them safe.
Go not, foolish ones! Mad are ye!
O God, keep them safe, pardon them,
O Lord.

Chorus of Women

O Lord, protect, O God, these innocents.

PART II

THE HIGHWAY

A highroad between a broad meadow bright with flowers and a strip of woods. A warm morning in spring.

The Children

Children three were we,
Who were going on our way.
And, as we went, lo!
We met with our blessed Lord, Jesus Christ.

Alain

Allys, this hand of thine I hold is all a-tremble;
Art thou not weary, my belovèd?
Speak to me;
Thou, whose face I see not,
Must be as fair as are the lilies of God.

The Children

Children three, what do ye here?
Be good to us, O Saviour dear,
And let us pluck the flower, we pray,
That all Thy grief shall take away.

Allys

Hear them all singing!
They are thronging along,
They look like a swarm of bees, of white bees.
Like pilgrims they go marching on,
And staves they bear of hazelwood,
And green and leafy crosses.

The Children

And staves of hazelwood,
And green and leafy crosses.
Flowering crosses, living crosses,
Crosses green and leafy.
Be good to us, O Saviour dear.

Allys

Ah! how bright and fair this year is the spring!
Ah! how fair!
For our Lord, He is here with us now.
Here in this hawthorn so red,
Behold the Lord, and in all things;
In the hum of wings,
And in the song of the crickets.

The Children

Green crosses, white crosses, and in flower.
Creature that flyeth,
Cricket that chirpeth.
Be good to us, O Saviour dear.

Alain

Ah! how bright and fair this year is the spring!
For our Lord is in all,
In the wind blowing by,
That over my face doth fling thy golden tresses.
Oh! shall we see our blessed Lord
Clothed in holy light?

The Children

To Mount Olivet now go ye,
And pluck the flower from off its tree.
Come, help us pluck the flower, we pray,
That all Thy grief shall take away.

Green crosses, flowering crosses,
Lead us on, gladden our hearts,
Soon we shall come to the sea,
We shall see Jerusalem.
Children three were we,
Who were going on our way.
And, as we went, lo!
We met with our blessed Lord, Jesus Christ.

Be good to us, O Saviour dear,
And let us pluck the flower, we pray,
That all Thy grief shall take away.

Alain

O Lord! help me to bear this my cross,
That I am blind.

Allys and Alain

O Lord, suffer the little children to come unto Thee.

The Children

Children three were we,
Who were going on our way.

PART III

THE SEA

Shore of the Mediterranean near Genoa, in the gulf of Lyons.
The silvery sand, spaingled with bright sea-shells and blue-tinted starfishes, sparkles in the sunshine.

The Narrator

The sea, at last the sea,
The mighty ocean, whose soft folds of blue
Are edged above with white,
As were't a heavenly garment!
Sky so deep, alive with thy stars,
Crystal waters clear, pure and holy!
Thou receiv'st that river divine,
Where Saint John did cleanse mankind from evil.
In thee were reflected
The faces and the forms of the Apostles.
O thou cradle of blue,
That dost not ebb nor flow,
Bear thou to their Lord
These children that stray!
To the Christ!
Bear the children on o'er thy blue waters,
Show them a face ever fair of heavenly blue;
Thy voice to them the gentlest of murmurs,
And wear thou for them thy rosiest smile.
With children thou shouldst play,
Caress them with thy touch.
O thou cradle of blue, O sea,
Bear these children on to their Lord!

The Children

The sea! The sea!

The Narrator

Look! look! See these blameless ones
All singing for joy by thy borders!
O thou cradle of blue, take these children to thee!

The Children

Noel! Oh! here we are at last
At the wide blue sea! The sea!

Allys

The sea! Noel!
Here is the glorious ocean!
Noel! The sea!

The Children

Hark! the sea is moaning,
Hark! the sea is murmuring.
Jerusalem lieth there at the end of this lovely sea!
O hear how it laughs,
Hear how it is moaning.
Hark! the sea is murmuring,
Look how it laughs bright and blue!

Allys

Noel! The sea! Noel!
Jerusalem lieth there!
Noel! Noel!
Jerusalem lieth there
At the end of this lovely sea!

The Children

The sea! Oh here we are at last,
Here's the wide blue sea!
See there the lovely sea,
'T is the wide blue sea!
Noel! Noel!
Jerusalem lieth there
At the end of this lovely sea!

Alain

Allys, I hear something great complaining,
Hear it groan, hear it weeping.
Where are we now? Oh, where are we?

Allys

Alain, rejoice, dear!
There is nothing complaining
Or groaning or that weeps,
'T is the mighty sea that chanteth for joy,
And its foaming waves
Are murmuring and cooing like doves together
And each one of its murmuring waves sings
Hallelujah! Hallelujah!
Each of its foamy waves is singing
And is cooing for joy! Noel!
Jerusalem lieth there o'er the lovely sea!
Hallelujah!

Alain

O, beautiful water blue!
O, let me now but dip my hands
In waves that lap on Palestine's border!

Chorus

Hallelujah! Hallelujah!

Allys and Alain

Blest waters, blue sea,
Baptize us thou, be kindly thou,
Be kind to thy children twain.

Chorus

Blest waters, blue sea,
Caress and baptize them,
These little children all.

The Children

Blue sea, blest waters,
Baptize us all, be kind to us,
Thy children all.

Alain

Noel! It is the glorious sea,
'T is the wide blue sea.
It is the lovely sea,
'T is the wide blue sea. Noel!

Allys

Noel! Thy foaming billows are chanting for joy, Noel!

The Children

Noel! Noel!

The Children, Allys, Alain

Hark! the sea is moaning,
Hark! the sea is murmuring.
Jerusalem lieth there
At the end of this quiet sea!

Allys

Oh hark, hear it laugh!
Its foaming waves are chanting for joy!

Alain

Hear, hear, now 'tis murmuring,
Its foaming waves are chanting for joy!

The Children

Hear, hear it laugh!
Hear how it laughs, the bright blue ocean!

The Children; Allys, Alain

Jerusalem lieth there, Jerusalem lieth there!
Noel! Noel!

Chorus of Men (Sailors)

Ahoy! sailor-lads, ahoy!
Here are the ships that by the town are sent,
The town of Genoa!
The magistrates have ordered out these ships
For Palestine land!
Come aboard! Ahoy! Come aboard!
Many a time for a distant shore
Have we charted our courses,
Never yet have we had
Such a force of fair hair among the canvas.
'T is a flight of pretty little swallows,
A flight that's starting for the East.
Jesus, Jesus, guide Thou this passage of swallows,
Guard them, safeguard this passage of swallows,
Guide them to Thee,
Watch over Thy children.

The Children

Look, look!
See the stars here on the seashore,
See the stars there in the sea!
Look, look! See, see!
See, they're all either violets or roses,
Are the stars of the sea!

Chorus of Men (Sailors)

In curious creatures the sea doth abound,
With flowers of luminous tissues that move.
But come, children, come aboard! All aboard!

The Children

A wonder!
They're the stars of the sky
That have been drowned in the sea
A wonder! A wonder!

Chorus of Men

Come! come!

A Sailor

Nay, the stars there in the sea
Come from the Holy Land.
Lend an ear, young things,
And I'll tell you their story.
Upon that Christmas night,
When came to earth our blessed Lord,
(Lord of children is He,)
On that same night was a star created:
'T was great and blue.
Watch did it keep o'er Him in the manger;
When He walked abroad, that star followed Him,
And the star did Jesus love.
But when evil men slew Him wickedly,
And when the blood of the Christ flowed forth,
This bright blue star did turn red and lurid.
There fell from it tears of blood.
The fire that it wept dropped like rain from the sky,

MATTAPAN SQUARE

And when our Lord was dead, then died the star, as well;
And then fell the star in the sea, and there was drowned.

The Children

Noel! 'T is for Jesus that all the stars have been drowned,
And have perished in the sea!

Allys, Alain

Noel! Noel! 'T is for Jesus that all the stars have been drowned,
And have perished in the sea!

The Narrator

No, the stars, they have never perished,
But with Jesus they live above.
For see! As the twilight falls,
The sky doth turn roseate and turquoise,
And there the stars are a-shining,
All alive above us there!
'T is Jesus that doth call, ever call them to Him.
For Jesus said:
"I am the Life, the Resurrection from the dead."

Chorus of Men

Jesus said:
"I am the Life, the Resurrection from the dead."

The Narrator (with Chorus)

Behold! In the sky, there on high in the sky
The holy, glowing souls of stars are shining!

Chorus of Men

Ahoy! sailor-lads, ahoy!
Come aboard now! it is time to sail!
Board the ships sent by the town of Genoa!

(The Children embark; it grows dark.)

Chorus of Men

The evening falls o'er the sea,
And there the crescent moon rises redly,
And she sails through the sky as were't a ship of fire.
See, O see!
The wind of the evening is filling our spreading canvas.
Sail we o'er the lovely sea,
Sail away, for the wind is fair!

Allys and Alain (the Children)

Sailing, sailing o'er the peaceful sea,
Sail we to Jerusalem, sail on to the Holy Land,
Onward o'er the lovely sea,
Onward to Jerusalem o'er the quiet sea
That rocks us through the night.
Onward, sail on, sail on.

Chorus of Men

Sail we o'er the lovely sea,
Sail we o'er the deep blue sea,
Sailing to the Holy Land and to Jerusalem,
Onward o'er the lovely sea,
Onward to the Holy City,
Onward o'er the sea
That rocks us through the night.
Sail on, onward, sail on, sail on.

INTERMISSION

PART IV

THE SAVIOUR IN THE STORM

The Narrator

The night has fallen on the deep,
And the ship trembles here in the darkness!
Hear how the wind-tauten'd cordage is groaning
And complaining as in anguish!
Alas! the billows are rising,
And the ship sobs and sighs 'gainst the waters!
Whirlwinds dark fill the air,
And whirlpools fierce churn the water!

Chorus of Men (Sailors)

Whirlwinds dark fill the air,
Whirlpools fierce churn the water!

Chorus of Men (Sailors)

Ho! Stand by! stand by for the topsail!
Reef in the mainsail!
The hatch! close the hatch!
Hurry to shut the portholes!
That wave, the huge one, O 'twill fall upon us!
Hold hard the tiller, hold hard!
For that awful wave is going to fall upon us!
To brace the foremast, all hands!
Look alive! the mizzen is falling!
The tiller is gone!
Captain! Captain! Where is the captain?
The mainmast's going! Ah!

The Children (with Chorus)

De profundis libera nos, Domine.

Allys

Oh! Alain! Alain! Oh! speak to me!
Alain, I have lost thee! Oh!
Spindrift blinds me! Alain!
How dark the night is!
Alain! Alain!

The Children (with Chorus)

De profundis libera nos, Domine.

Chorus of Men

Keep a hold of the ropes all,
Hold ye fast to the handrail!
Lord, protect us now! Lord have mercy on us!
De profundis libera nos, Domine.
O Lord God, save us now, protect us now!
O Lord, save us now!

The Children

O Herbert! O Dennis! O Eleonor!
Do not leave me here!
O Bernard! O Herbert! O Eleonor!
Hold me close to thee!
De profundis libera nos, Domine.
O Lord God, save us now, protect us now!
O Lord, save us now!

Allys

Alain, I'm frightened! Oh! where art thou?
Spindrift blinds me, I can not see!
Art thou there? Alain!

Alain

Allys, hallelujah! hallelujah!
I see, I see such a radiance,
One glorious burst of brightness!
Noel! Noel! I see the Lord!

Happy he, though blind, that sees the Lord in His glory!

The Children (with Chorus)

He is there, I see Him, we shall go to Him,
To Jesus, to God. Then on to Him!
Hallelujah!

BOSTON UNIVERSITY

School of Religious and Social Work

Operates in two major Graduate Divisions, at the same time providing undergraduate preprofessional training on a senior college level.

The Graduate Division of Religious Education

Offers professional training for directors of religious education in local churches, directors of music, drama and pageantry, and fine arts in religion, teachers and supervisors of week-day schools of religion, teachers of religion in colleges and secondary schools, religious journalists, executive and staff workers in denominational and inter-denominational councils and boards of education. Graduate training in this division may lead to the professional degrees of Master of Religious Education and Doctor of Religious Education; or, under the direction of the Boston University Graduate School (of Arts and Sciences), to the non-professional research degrees of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy.

The Graduate Division of Social Work

Offers professional training in preparation for social work in public service and in private agencies. Particular emphasis is placed upon the training of men for public welfare administration, work with delinquents, and in specialized forms of group work. This graduate training leads to the degrees of Master of Science in Social Work and Doctor of Social Science, and is open to men and women who are college graduates. The curriculum provides training in many fields, including Family Welfare, Children's Work, Psychiatric and Medical Social Work, Community Organization, Probation and Parole, Social Legislation, Governmental Social Agencies and Social Research.

Supervised Field Work

In the training program of the School, closely supervised field work is considered as impirtant as class room instruction. Boston is rich in the opportunities it affords for such field work experience in connection with progressive and well-equipped institutions to which students are assigned. Churches and social agencies of Greater Boston and vicinity are cooperating with the School in providing these opportunities.

In Faculty, Student Body and outlook the School is Interdenominational, Inter Racial and International

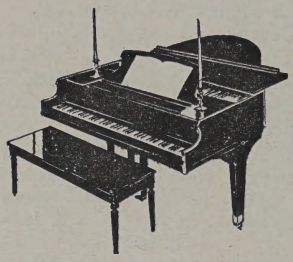
Chickering & Sons



Even as Jonas Chickering and his three sons, Charles Francis, Thomas E. and George H., were actively connected as officials of the Handel and Haydn Society from 1831 to 1897—all having been Presidents at one time during their connection—so has the Chickering Piano itself been an important factor in the life of this illustrious organization, having been the official Piano from its earliest beginnings up to the present day.

In keeping with the modern trend, an infinite variety of styles and designs of CHICKERING PIANOS are available. You are cordially invited to inspect these instruments at
